Frankfort and Matteson Village Boards
Take Action for Bus Line Franchise

At the village board meeting in Frankfort Monday evening, action was taken on the poor, or rather lack of, service of the Gold Star bus line through Frankfort.

Citizens in Frankfort who have depended on the bus for going to and from their work and school complained to the board Monday night.

Mayor George Sangmeister was emphatic that the board take some action. A vote was taken by the board members, favorably, that their village attorney Albert Kruse mark should write to the Illinois Commerce Commission asking them to consider giving the franchise of the Gold Star bus line to the South Suburban Bus Line.

Monday there was no bus service at all, on some previous occasions the Gold Star Bus Line would not stop and pick up waiting passengers, as they drove by.

Mayor Sangmeister stated he had received a letter from the Matteson village board in which they stated they were also writing the Illinois Commerce Commission with the same request as has Frankfort.

Mayor Sangmeister states that the village does not control the bus company, the village only gives a franchise to the company for use of the village streets.

New Lenox village board has yet received no complaints concerning the poor bus service. They have the Rock Island railroad which most everyone in the village uses, but there are some residents who have used the bus service as their hourly trips are convenient.

A representative from the Scharer Charter Coach company in Chicago, to whom it has been reported the Gold Star Bus company has been sold, told a News-Bulletin reporter that they expected to complete purchasing plans at a meeting within a day or so.

More Dimes Needed
Than Ever Before

The March of Dimes campaign is now in progress and the need for contributions is greater than ever this year.

The large number of polio cases in the past year has depleted the treasury of the March of Dimes organization.

Cards have been sent to all local and rural box holders for their contributions, and the well known "March of Dimes man" has been placed in most business places in town.

Your contribution may be the means of some child or adult, afflicted with polio, receiving the necessary treatment to enable them to overcome this dread disease.

Please return the card sent you, help fill up the "cans" you see in the stores, and make your contributions as large as possible.

You, or your child, might be the next victim.

MRS. ALBERT CAPPEL, F. B. NEEDHAM, Co-chairmen.

Rural Schools

Their talk brought out the fact that there is a wide range in salaries being paid to rural teachers and that on the whole the rural teachers are not as well paid as those in towns and cities.

After deliberating on the subject for two hours, the committee agreed to make the following report, "In view of the ever-increasing cost of living, and in order that salaries of rural teachers may be such as to encourage them to remain in their positions, it is recommended that boards immediately arrange a meeting with their teacher (s) to discuss the possibility of salary increases at this time."

Profiting by Experience

If emergency conditions ultimately require emergency regulations, simultaneous wage and price controls are approved by the committee on price controls which represents the majority of retailers in this country. This position was taken at a meeting of the National Retail Dry Goods Association which directly represents fifty-five retail trade associations whose members comprise thousands of stores of all types.

The American Retail Federation is asking its members to present their views to proper congressional committees now considering legislation on these matters.

Another point considered vitally important to fair and equitable distribution by the committee members was the problem of limiting maximum retail selling prices.

"We are strongly opposed to any legislation requiring a seller to limit his prices to the highest prices charged on the same line at any prior time," a committee member stated. "Such legislation caused untold damage to retailers during the last war."

"Chain stores, particularly, found that they could not raise their prices when material costs went up and shortages increased because of their traditionally low price ranges. Yet a new retailer or one who had never carried the line before could sell the same merchandise at much higher prices."

Close cooperation between the stores and public officials can eliminate injustices which caused needless scarcity under former price and rationing controls.

Joliet Work Shop For Catholic Women

A warning to motorists to exert a period of deceptive light between every possible precaution during sunset and darkness is contained in a bulletin issued by the Greater Chicago Safety Council.

Stating that the peak hour for fatal accidents is always between seven and eight o'clock in the evening, the bulletin points out that there has been an increasing number of fatalities at this time due to the earlier arrival of dusk.

"Drivers should bear in mind that a driving hazard is created with the first approach of twilight, even though it is not dark enough to employ headlights to advantage," the bulletin states.

"Neither pedestrian nor car driver can judge distances normally in semi darkness. It is advisable to proceed more slowly, exercising every precaution at intersections."

"While city and state motor vehicle laws provide that headlights should be turned on at sunset," the bulletin continues, "this rule is not applicable to cloudy days when complete darkness may descend on the city in from fifteen minutes to half an hour. It is best to make use of headlights as soon as the light begins to wane."

Twilight Hours Found Deceptive to Motoring Public

"God can give us peace. If we were all good Christians there would be no war." PRAY FOR PEACE, urged His Excellency, Bishop Marlin D. McNamara to the 150 diocesan and district officers and chairmen and presidents and vice presidents of all parish societies who attended the first work shop conducted by the Joliet diocesan Council of Catholic women at the Cantigny Post recently.

Mrs. Agnes Rasmussen, diocesan chairman of Religious activities urged the delegates not to be Sunday Christians and Weekday pagans but to direct their thoughts to God. As women have much to do with the making of decisions for their families, they should use this influence to encourage the attendance of the family at daily mass. She stated that it was not easy but could be arranged if the women would plan for it.

Mrs. L.M. Mann, diocesan library and literature chairman explained how faith could be increased by wholesome reading. This urge for wholesome reading could be encouraged by the setting up of parish libraries, pamphlet racks, and by the use of the Catholic book shelf in our public libraries.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. Harry Wenger, to use the Joliet information center, at 60 N. Joliet street in Joliet library, reading room and the inquiry classes. The public is invited to attend the discussion clubs which will meet

Champion Wheat Crop, Thick Legume Stand Come From Good Soil Care Plus Plant Food

GOOD soil management practices including the use of commercial fertilizer, paid off for Charles Doades, who farms near Washington in Davies county, Ind., when he was named 1950 champion of the 10-Acre Wheat Improvement Contest in Southwestern Indiana.

Doades harvested a 45 bushel per acre yield of Vigo wheat from the 10 acres he entered in the contest. At combining time, the field's legume stand was about 12 inches high. Doades plans to plow it for corn next spring.

This year's championship field was seeded last October, at the rate of two bushels per acre. At seeding time, Doades added 650 pounds per acre of 3-12-12 fertilizer. Late in February he topdressed the field with 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre. The wheat followed soybeans in 1949 and corn in 1948.

Doades is a firm believer in legumes as a soil builder, according to Prof. Howard Lathrop, Purdue University agronomist. He seeded a mixture of seven pounds of sweet clover and five pounds of red clover on the field early in March.

More than 400 Southwestern Indiana wheat growers competed in the wheat improvement contest this year. Fields were scored on appearance, soil management, culture and yields. County agents and specialists from Purdue University cooperated in the contest.

February 8, 15, 22 and March 1 at 8 P. M. at the center.

The Diocesan chairman of Medical missions and orphanage aid, told of the many needs: St. Vincent's orphanage uses over 1000 diapers and bibe a day; good used clothing for children, especially boys, ages 4 to 14, is always in demand at the orphanages in Joliet and LaSalle. For missions rolled bandages 10 feet long and 1 to 5 inches wide can be made from old sheets. Bed shirts can be made from discarded white or light shirts.

War Threats Spur Need for Building Up Soil Fertility

THREATS of war heighten the need for putting farm soil in top condition to produce high crop yields, says the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in a statement made public here.

Legumes, fertilizers, soil-saving rotations and conservation tillage methods are the tools for building and maintaining the soil's crop producing capacity, the committee points out.

By strengthening the soil's reserves of organic matter and stockpiling supplies of plant nutrients in the soil now, farmers can be ready if things get really tough later on, the statement says.

"Farm soil took a beating in World War II," it says. "Soil-depleting forces worked overtime after Pearl Harbor when every acre had to produce food to the utmost to help speed victory."

"Although fertilizer use has risen to an all-time high in the years since the war, crop demands have been taking more plant nutrients from the soil than have been added to it. 'Put back' methods that replace these nutrients and build a well-balanced supply of plant food in the soil are vital in the months ahead."

Forage Yields Upped 500 Per Cent With Lime and Fertilizer

"GET reckless with fertilizer if you want to make the most profit from crop and pasture land," advises Ray Wetherell, Fairfield county, Ohio, dairyman. He says it is cheaper than paying for extra land and labor.

Wetherell practices what he preaches, for he used about 60 tons of fertilizer last year, reports Dr. D. R. Dodd, Ohio State University extension agronomist.

Wetherell has found that it pays to add just as much fertilizer to pasture land as to crop land. By renovating a badly rundown permanent pasture two years ago, he increased production fivefold. On this field he seeded a nurse crop with a mixture of alfalfa, Ladino clover and brome grass. At seeding time he added 400 pounds per acre of 3-12-12. Then at the beginning of the second year he top-dressed with 500 pounds per acre of 0-12-12.

High quality hay and pasture, plus expert grazing management, are key items in the success of Wetherell's dairy farm, says Dr. Dodd. Wetherell figures his 60 Jersey cows will finish the year with a herd average of more than 400 pounds of butter fat.

Wetherell gives his corn crop plenty of fertilizer, too. He plows under 500 pounds per acre of 8-8-8 and then adds 350 pounds of 3-12-12 in the row at planting time. His 4-year rotation includes corn, small grain and two years of legume-grass crop for hay, grass silage and pasture.

An Announcement. This Weekly Letter is now its fourteenth year. We hope our visits with you have been both interesting and informative. We shall be glad to hear from any of you at any time on any subject in which you may be interested. The Eighty Second Congress will face momentous problems that affect the whole world. We will need the prayers and advice of all good citizens. May we have yours?

A Five Year Summary—During the last five years Mr. Truman has spent a total of $225.8 billion, an average of $45.2 billion per year. During the same five years the national income has averaged $210 billion a year, or a total of $1,050 billion for the five year period. The amount of Federal expenditures for the last five years, therefore, figures out to be 21 1/2% of the national income.

How High Dare Taxes Go? The old saying, "The power to tax is the power to destroy," is both pertinent and true. It is pertinent today because we have reached the point where destruction has started. What will happen when 15 to 0 billion dollars more taxes must be raised? That is what we face next year.

People have always grumbled about the payment of taxes. Following two 'hot wars' and a 'cold war' in the short space of 33 years, our taxes have skyrocketed to unprecedented heights, and our economy staggers under the load. How much higher can taxes go before our economy collapses?

When taxes rise too high people do not find it worthwhile to work hard, or to work overtime; in fact, they take time off from work because what they earn above a certain amount is taken in taxes. This condition actually exists in Great Britain today. When taxes are too high production slows off, a shortage of goods develops, prices rise, and then the government slaps on price controls, wage controls and rationing to check or suppress inflation. We have already arrived at that point in our economy. What will we do when we add $20 billion more to our tax load?

History records that in every instance where a nation has exceeded a tax load of 25% of the national income, that nation has had serious economic and financial troubles. Our total tax load today—federal, state, and local—amounts to 25% of our total income. An increase of 15 to 20 billion dollars in our federal taxes will make a tax load of 35%. Dare we place such a heavy tax load upon our people? A Good Voting Record—The "off year" 1950 vote in the Fifteenth Congressional District of Illinois was the best "off year" vote the district has ever had. It was 98% of the vote cast in the 1948 Presidential year. The total vote cast in "off year" elections is usually 10 to 15 percent less than the total vote cast in Presidential elections. When a congressional district falls only 2% below in an "off year" election, it is a good record.

The Great Teacher

Lesson for January 28, 1951

WE HEAR a lot about a "better world." God pity the poor lot who thinks the world as it is, is all right! And may God stab awake those who are afraid to try to make this world better. If you want to see a group of people who are not afraid, and are really working at this, go to your nearest Sunday school. There you will find teachers of religion. They may be doing a good job or a poor one; but anyhow they are trying. And when one of these teachers succeeds, even a little, in what they are all trying to do, the world has already been made a little better.

Dr. Foreman

Greatest of Teachers

EVERY Sunday school teacher, or any other sort, for that matter, should study the methods of Jesus to see what good teaching can be. He is and will always be THE Teacher.

His object was not to teach science or history. The only technique he taught was the most important of all—the technique of fine living. His object was to teach "what we are to believe concerning God, and what duties God requires of man."

In short, his subjects were Faith and Life, not separately but welded into one.

Down Where We Live

HIS method was always simple. He did not use long words, he did not "put his hat on such a high shelf that only intellectual giraffes could reach it," as Billy Sunday expressed it. Common people heard him gladly, because he taught in the kind of language they used, he spoke of things that were familiar to them.

So the good teacher today never teaches over the heads of the class. This means he has to have a good imagination, has to make believe to himself that he is one of the class instead of the teacher. He has to remember how the world looked to him when he was a boy, he has to stay young in heart.

Jesus could surely have taught more profoundly than he did. Indeed, he said at the end of his days, "I have many things to say . . . but ye cannot bear them now." However true a thing might be, he would not say it if his hearers were not ready for it.

Truth in Pictures

THEN Jesus taught in pictures; we call them parables. The best-loved and remembered parts of his teaching are the stories he told. Every one of them was simple; they were about the kinds of people his listeners knew or had often heard of.

The good teacher will always use illustrations. But the best ones will come right out of the experience of the pupils. Jesus never quoted from a book his hearers had not read. He never used illustrations that only a Ph.D. could understand. Furthermore, he never tried to teach two things at once.

A teacher, looking over a Sunday school lesson, may find it full of suggestive ideas; but it is generally better to pick out one truth and illustrate it in several ways, as Jesus did when speaking of the Kingdom of God, than it is to try to bring out everything that could be brought out, and so confusing the class.

Making Them Think

NOW some teachers, trying to be simple, succeed only in being dull. The good teacher must keep the class awake, otherwise no one can learn anything. There is a good motto which might be borrowed by all Sunday school teachers: "Nothing that is not interesting; not everything that is interesting; nothing merely because it is interesting."

Jesus gained attention and interest in various ways. One was the "cryptic" nature of his teaching; that is, it was often puzzling. There was often something that sent listeners away thinking: Now what did he mean by that?

Confucius once remarked: "I give my pupil one corner of an idea. If he cannot get the other three corners for himself, I do not want him for my pupil." So Jesus often gave out one corner of a truth and let his hearers (and ourselves!) wrestle out the other three.

Harvey Bank Shows Increase of Home Mortgages in 1950

In a statement issued recently, Foss P. Miller, chairman of the board of directors of Harvey Federal Savings and Loan association, reports that the 40 year old institution broke all records during the year 1950. Total assets at the year end were $7,933,229.74, as compared with $6,169,661.40 on December 31, 1949 or a net growth of $1,763,568.34 for the year.

Mr. Miller said, "The gain during 1950 was accomplished through an increase in home mortgage loans outstanding during the year of $1,105,772.88, bringing the total of such accounts to a peak of $6,122,100.65. The other large increases in assets were in the Government bond account of $197,062.24 and in securities of the Federal Home Loan Bank system of $349,898.44, or a total increase in the securities account of $546,960.68."

"Net income for the year was at a record $174,498.02, or the equivalent of 3.42% on outstanding savings balances. Of this amount $101,933.98 was paid out in dividends at the rate of 2% and the balance of $72,564.04 was carried to the permanent reserves of the Association. This brought the total of reserves and undivided profits at the year-end to a new peak of $398,111.50, or to phrase it another way, the Association now has $107.04 of assets against each $100.00 of savings invested," said Mr. Miller.

Mr. Miller pointed out that new mortgage loans made by the institution during the year 1950, 459 in number, totaled $2,443,978.68, more than 2 1/2 times the volume of the year 1949. Of this total, 71 home loans were made to veterans amounting to $527,500.00 and 388 to other home owners totaling $1,916,478.68.

Life has never been the same. In our hearts your memory lingers.

Sweetly tender, fond and true; There is not a day, dear one That we do not think of you Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life has fled, And in heaven with joy to greet thee Where no farewell tears are shed.

Springfield Paper Praises Our Senator O'Neill and Others

Seven Lovely Ladies of Law Are Adding Charm and Efficiency to State Assembly

In his column, "Assorted Smiles", in the Illinois State Register, Springfield, of January 10, V. Y. Dahman had the following to say about our Senator Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill:

"Women in the Illinois General Assembly are a most interesting study. I observed them with smiling admiration at the opening joint session when Gov. Stevenson delivered his masterful message on the 'state of the State'."

All of the seven women in this Assembly are very attractive. They dress very conservatively in subdued colors. A tint of gray adorns most of their admirable hair-dos. They smile frequently and attractively. Transcending all else they are highly intelligent. They look the part.

Of the seven only one is a Democrat. She is the only "Miss" in this feminine group. She is a new member, a blonde, Miss Lillian Pietrowski of Chicago. She learned politics at her father's knee. He was an efficient precinct captain.

All are members of the House except the brilliant, versatile, plain spoken Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill who put Downers Grove on the map.

The lady from Downers Grove is a most remarkable woman. Just think of it. Mrs. O'Neill has served 13 terms in the House. Last year she started the State by becoming a candidate to succeed the famous perpetual Senator "Dick" Barr who declined re-election. She won and we were very happy about it.

If there is a woman in the nation with a longer or more constructive record of legislative achievement than Lottie Holman O'Neill we've never heard of her.

She makes a business of serving the public. Though Republican, she is first of all a champion of good government. She entertains disdain for the petty, parasitic, political log-rolling which afflicts so many men who try to become magicians and deal from the bottom of the deck.

I invite you to watch Senator O'Neill fighting for what she believes to be right. Keep your eye on her. She is an aggressive symbol of statesmanship or should I say stateswomanhood.

Second in seniority to Senator O'Neill in this Assembly—I mean among the women, of course—is the capable, courageous lady from Winnetka, bright-eyed, eloquent, purposeful and patriotic Mrs. Bernice T. Van Der Vries. She has eight terms to her credit. She began her ninth with smiles, orchids and countless congratulations.

Representative Van Der Vries made a great fight in the last Assembly for an enabling act to permit cities like Springfield to vote whether or not they want the Council-Manager form of municipal government. I hope she leads the fight again, and wins.

Men could well catch the spirit of such women as form this petticoat group dedicated to faithful public service.

Three of them I have presented to you. Here are the other four, all deserving of all the verbal orchids this Column can grow in the Garden of Gracious Friendships and presented with chivalrous devotion to the lovely ladies of the Legislature:

Mrs. Maud Peppers, Aurora, entering her seventh term; Mrs. Hazel McCaskrin, Rock Island, and Mrs. Mabel Green, Rockford, entering their second terms; and Mrs. Marie Suther, Chicago, a beginner.

I should like to see Springfield through various civic organizations in cooperation with their ladies hold a reception and entertainment for these wonderful women of law. Again—a, yes—and again, Springfield needs that Memorial Civic Auditorium!

Ladies of Law who do your parts To serve the State we give our hearts.
You are attractive and creative In public service legislative.
Oh, alas, if we should miss you! That's why we rise to bow and—thank you!

Elmer Rowley Named to War Com. For Junior Colleges

With the country confronted with the present emergency, the junior colleges are to have a significant role in preparing for it.

Dean Elmer Rowley of Joliet Junior college stated. Dean Rowley has been asked to serve on the War Emergency committee of the American Association of Junior Colleges to represent the junior colleges of the state of Illinois in expressing their interest in aiding in military and academic training to meet the coming emergency. This may call for a presentation in Washington before the Senate and House Armed Services Committee, he disclosed.

"Since there is a great need for technically trained men, if the induction age of 19 is retained and the program of the institution is accelerated, a large proportion of young people may complete their two years before induction," said Dean Rowley.

Consideration is also given to the development of technical courses somewhat comparable to, but not as restricted as the Engineering Science Management course of World War II, and possibly some military training. If such courses are required, the junior colleges are in a unique position to offer them, the Association of Junior Colleges states.

Mr. Rowley emphasized that it is to the advantage of most students to stay in school as long as possible.

New Courses Added This Term at Joliet Junior College

by Joanne Martie

January 19 marked the beginning of a new semester at Joliet Junior College. Miss Susan Wood, assistant Dean, announced.

This semester will parallel the first with few changes in courses or enrollment.

Miss Wood stated, however, that there would be the following additional courses: In the Home Economics department two new courses, Child Development and Home Furnishings are being offered. Advertising will constitute a third addition to the school's curriculum and there will also be accredited courses in petrology, mineralogy and photography.

"As for the enrollment, it consisted of between 300 and 400, very close to the previous semester's total," said Miss Wood. She added that some students have left school because of the present emergency, most of them being those in the national guard or in the reserve units.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Right Under Our Nose!

Sometime back, we got word from the Governor, asking if we wanted to use the State Fire Inspection Team—a group of experts they send around to communities to inspect public buildings.

We sent a letter saying: "Okay! Give us the once-over!" They came down, all right—last week.

After the inspection, we got their report. Came out pretty well, all told. Town Hall and the School were O.K. Post Office just needed more sandbuckets. In fact, everything got a clean bill of health, except—the Fire Station!

From where I sit, we volunteer firemen had just been too blamed busy keeping everyone else on the ball—and not realizing our own firehouse was not up to snuff. Like the man who worries so much about his neighbors—about whether they work hard enough, about whether they can really afford their new car, about their enjoying a temperate glass of beer—that he forgets to take a good critical look at himself now and then.

Joe Marsh

Teenager Gets Appetite Back; Thanks Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron Which Her System Lacked.

According to Sara Loraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama, when a person is only 15 years old and feels terrible, can't eat or sleep the way they should, it's mighty bad. That is the way Loraine says she used to feel but that was, of course, before she started taking HADACOL. Loraine found that taking HADACOL helped her system overcome deficiencies in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Loraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down sick and skinny, and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done me lots of good."

According to Childcraft Advisory Service in Chicago, the consuming ambition of the average six year-old boy is to be as much like his father as possible. At that age, the service says, boys start to imitate their dad's way of walking, talking and even try to mimic his gestures and the tone of his voice.

by EVERETT MITCHELL

Farm Commentator, heard Monday through Saturday, 6:15-6:45 a. m. on WMAQ, Chicago, 670 on your dial.

HERE are a few cold weather tips for dairy and stock men: During the kind of weather many northern and midwestern farms are having this time of year, ice-cold water in the farm stock tank can be dangerous to your livestock, both from the standpoint of health and profitable production.

For example, if water is too cold, dairy cows will not drink enough to keep up their normal milk production. In the same way, beef cattle will not gain their normal increase in weight. And work horses may do just the opposite—drink too much cold water, causing an attack of colic. For these reasons, a water heater is a good idea for stock farms where long, cold winters are the rule.

Another hazard of cold weather is the prevalence of ketosis in dairy cows. Ketosis, which is caused by a decrease of sugar in the blood, may be brought on by one of two things: lack of enough feed or poor quality roughage and grain in the feed. A common warning sign of this malady is falling off in physical condition and milk production. The diagnosis of a veterinarian should be secured, and it may be necessary to give the animal injections of a glucose solution. The use of more and better feed may relieve the condition.

The recent cold spell taught a lot of farmers some new facts about concrete block houses. Farmers who have new block construction—either in barns or outbuildings—found that it was colder than they expected when they used plaster directly over the concrete. The best way to make good winter walls out of concrete block construction is to have a brick face with a space between the brick and the concrete, or to use a one inch furring strip on the inside of the blocks to hold insulating board and plaster.

at which time a Valentine party will be a feature.

The Wayside Workers Circle of King's Daughters will meet in the home of their president, Mrs. Wilbur Francis, Sr., Thursday afternoon, February 1, with Mrs. Edna Mergler as assisting hostess.

The Hi-X club met in the home of Carol Burch Sunday evening at 6 o'clock; a box supper was followed by the election of officers which resulted as follows: Stuart Reiter president; Walter Boyce, vice president; Joe Murphy, secretary; and Carol Burch, treasurer.

Ralph Waldvogel is a patient in St. Joseph's hospital where he was taken last Tuesday, following a heart attack while at work. He is improving.

Robert Shepherd, Sr., served on the grand jury in Joliet last week. Fred Paddock, who has been a surgical patient in Silver Cross hospital, returned to his home last Wednesday and is doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman spent several days this week with Mrs. Coleman, Sr., in Chicago; the latter has since gone to Reno, Nev., on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Anderson and children, George and Faye, and Mrs. Ira Anderson were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burch, honoring George's eight birthday.

Bernard Morris, who has been seriously ill for some time, was taken to Billings hospital, Chicago for observation recently.

Bruce and George Anderson were

Chicago visitors last Friday.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Watch for investigation of tin plate situation, especially if the recent order curtailing tin usage results in small canners and packers having difficulty in getting tin cans.

Among other questions will be this one, "Why, when the tin reduction rule was announced, did ECA Bulletin #1937 announce almost concurrently that through the Marshall Plan, $800,000 worth of tin plate secured in USA was given to French North Africa?" This equals an entire year's supply for 15 to 20 medium small fruit and vegetable canners.

During World War II many small food packers lost markets to big corporations because they could not obtain sugar.

Yet, with the nation presumably on the verge of a global war once again, Agriculture Secretary Brannan reduces the amount of sugar that can be marketed in the nation during 1951 to 8 million tons, or 700,000 tons less than used in 1950.

There is no shortage of sugar. The ruling was made to stabilize prices, the Secretary says.

Housewives who paid 4c per lb. for sugar in 1940 will continue to pay 12c or more. If total war comes the Sugar Trust will once again determine who will stay in business. This upholding of monopoly by bureaucracy will get close scrutiny in Congress.

Alcohol befuddles many, but in high officialdom alcohol seems to especially befuddle. That's the substance of a Senate preparedness committee report on the amazing deal whereby Schenley secured a government industrial alcohol plant in Kansas City valued at $2,508,000 for $700,000.

A month after Korea, the Government Surplus Administration opened bids for the plant. Schenley won with an offer of $701,000. Three days later Sen. Johnson, Chairman of the Committee, and Jess Larson, GSA head, conferred. Three days later a "freeze order" was issued. But on the same day, August 17th, GSA wired Schenley acceptance, who took possession of the plant on August 23rd. No one knows yet how it happened.

But this is known. The synthetic rubber program needs 125 to 135 million gallons of alcohol.

On the first request, Office of Rubber Reserve did not receive a gallon from distillers. For the last two months of 1950, 10,000,000 gallons were requested. Prices ranged from 90c to $1.25 per gallon. So the government bought French alcohol at a price of 48 1/2c per gallon. Sen. Johnson will undoubtedly carry this probe further . . . watch for developments.
